

Petition to Support the Continuation and Expansion of the Hobby Protection Act

The public comment period for the 2003 review of the Hobby Protection Act runs from March 3, 2003 until May 2, 2003. The current Act, passed in 1973, requires only two categories of reproductions - political items and numismatics - to be permanently marked with the date of manufacture and the word "copy."

If you support the Hobby Protection Act, and are in favor of changing the current law to require marking all categories of reproductions, you need to express your opinion now by signing the following petition.

I support the continuation of the Hobby Protection Act and strongly urge the Federal Trade Commission to recommend expansion of the Act to require all categories of antiques and collectibles to be permanently marked "copy" and dated.
