

Austrian Assay Office Codes

1867-1922

This is a table of the letter/number codes used to identify the various assay offices working in the Austrian-Hungarian Empire between 1867 and 1922. From 1867 to 1872, this code appeared in a separate punch outside of the "Dianakopf" [Diana's head] mark, or the appropriate small gold or silver mark. The assay offices were reorganized in 1872 (with some changes in the code numbers resulting in duplicate listings here) and from that time the code appeared within the Dianakopf or small mark.

The city is listed first by its preferred (i.e., native) name followed by English, German or other variant names, and finally the country within whose borders the city currently lies.

The dates here are approximate, in that it is unlikely that all these offices remained open for the entire duration. Any corrections or additions are welcome, particularly any information regarding specific opening/closing dates of individual offices.

Remember: 1867-1872 code in a separate punch; 1872-1922 code within Dianakopf or small mark
