Kim Felger, an 11 year old sixth grader is the daughter of Carl and Donna Felger of College Park, Maryland. Although Kim's mother's spoon collection has always been of some interest to her, she didn't begin her own collection until about three years ago. Now she has sixty-six spoons of her own. Kim catalogs all of her spoons and likes to find out as much about each one of them as she can. She displayed her collection when she was earning her Collector's Badge in Girl Scouts. Among her favorites are her Viking spoon and Watermelon spoon. Another is her Orient Bicycle spoon, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Rainwater, the same Christmas she received her English racing bike. Kim has taken spoons to school several times when they were related to subjects her class was studying. She and her parents have lots of fun sharing their common interest in spoon collecting, and she always enjoys browsing in the antique shops with her mom.

In addition to spoon collecting, Kim has many other activities which keep her very very busy. Among these are handicrafts, sewing, reading, and most of all, she loves the many weekends the family spends together on their cruiser, the "Kimberly B. II" fishing on Chesapeake Bay.
